About CRW Systems...

CRW was formed in 1990 and created software for Accounting, and accounting-related activities in business and Government. The company worked closely with their users as they developed their projects. Optional features and functions to support the businesses were built-in. They kept refining their systems on the advice of their clients.

Behind the scenes, at the CRW development office they also thought carefully about their methodologies, tools and repeatability of their routines. They standardized on a database, a development tool, a programming language, and a way to handle repeatable routines. CRW chose Microsoft Access, and SQL, M/S Visual basic and Access DLL's. They were confident in Microsoft products, believing in their longevity and supportability.

During the development of the Social, CRW worked closely with small, mid-sized and large Bands in Manitoba over a period of five years to create and refine the processes. We also worked with Accounting firms to ensure the auditability of the entries and the reporting to INAC..

Today, CRW is able to add needed optional features quickly to respond to their clients needs. Further, CRW provides manuals, telephone support, and off-site back up for client data. All of CRW's Client sites are reference sites.
