

CRW Band Membership System

The CRW Band Membership System allows First Nations to register and track its members on or off reserve as well as record and produce reports on its current Status members.

The Band Membership database is the basis of information for Income Assistance. This database will feed that module when integration is seen as a benefit for the First Nation. The system enables the registration clerk to key in and update clients information.

The system contains over 15 reports that are often requested by various councilors or departments. Reports include Members by Age groups, Voters Lists, Off Reserve, Non Status, and more.

The system includes fields for band members email address and cell phone numbers. This information allows for mass emails as well as mass texts to band members. The system can create and print band treaty cards
